WAYNE MINER WARNED OF "FALSE PROMISES" OF STRIKE LEADERS

Drumheller, Nov. 24.—"Those who lead you into these escapades invariably desert you," Mr. Justice Tweedie told John Wolkoff, miner of Wayne, who pleaded guilty Wednesday at the fall sitting of supreme court here to a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Plea of guilty was entered by F. C. Moyer, counsel for the accused, who explained that James Sloan, president of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, who had retained him on the case, had promised to be present in court to direct the form of defense, but had failed to show up. Under the circumstances he felt that he should enter the guilty plea and ask for a suspended sentence, as the accused had been led into the trouble during a recent strike at Wayne.

In passing a suspended sentence of two years, and a further suspended sentence of three months on his charge, his lordship advised the accused to be on his guard against the false promises of such men as Sloan in the future. He would be well advised to keep out of strikes in the future.

Wolkoff, when arrested, was found to have several large stones in his pockets.—Calgary Herald.

(Pictures by Courtesy Montreal Star)

A PAIR of giant steel antenna towers, rising one above the other, are the only visible indication that the general public has the Police Radio System which will be officially put into operation this week by the Montreal Police Department of Montreal.

The new radio system will be of value in the suppression of crime is indicated by the fact that while the preliminary tests were being carried on during the installation of the system a call came over the air to the test car driven by a police officer who made the first radio arrest in the Montreal area. Several other arrests have since been effected during tests.

DELIGHTFUL EVENT AT MICHEL

A very delightful event took place at Michel in the English church hall on Wednesday, 23rd, in the form of a recital under the direction of Mr. Harris, A.L.C.M., (gold medallist) of Coleman. Larke of Blairmore, chairman, in calling upon Rev. Unemployed Appointed Delegates to "Hunger March" to Capital City

Protests on Wages Paid on Relief Work and Men Urged to Stand for Minimum of 50¢ Hour

Unemployed and derigiminated men met in the Palace theatre on Sunday, about 85 men being present and a larger number of women and children. William Holly was chairman, and speakers were Rock Sudworth and John Stoulik. General protest was made on the "slave camps," and men were urged not to engage on relief work at less than 50¢ per hour. The prevailing rate is 30¢. Those who went to work for less, it was said, would regret it.

Various organizations were denounced for their alleged opposition to the cause advocated by the speakers. Plans are under way for a demonstration at Blairmore on Saturday, when unemployed from the Peace towns will converge for a mass meeting.

It is reported that some of the discriminated men will take part in the proposed hunger march to Edmonton early in December. The purpose of the march is to protest to the provincial government on the lot of the unemployed.

Pains Around Her HeartTired Out After Doing Housework

Mrs. Henry Ranch, Mural Lake, Alta., writes: "Last fall I had bad pains around my heart, and each morning, after doing a little housework, I seemed to get dizzy and feel all tired out."

British-U. S. War Debts.

At the time this article is written, President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt are in conference giving consideration to applications made by the British, French, and other Governments which are indebted to the United States for loans made by the latter during the war, for an extension of the one-year moratorium covering repayments granted last year, and generally for a revision of the terms of settlement of such debts.

Inasmuch as these enormous international war debts are admittedly one cause of the existing financial and economic depression affecting all nations, whether they are directly concerned as debtors or creditors or not, it is well that the general position in regard to these debts should be understood in its broad outlines.

The war debts of the nations of Europe to the United States total approximately $22,143,539,000, of which amount Great Britain owed $11,105,965,000, and has paid almost $2,000,000,000. France owed $6,847,674,000 and has paid $486,075,891. Italy owed $2,407,677,000 and has paid $97,758,422, with the smaller nations owing varying amounts. Repayment of these huge amounts were to be made within a period of approximately 60 years.

On the other hand, Germany was obligated to pay these allied European nations the sum of $26,377,000,000 during a like period of time. In other words, as Germany paid her debts to the Allies, they in turn could pay the United States. But Germany cannot pay; the whole world now recognizes that fact. So at the Lausanne Conference last June, Great Britain and the other nations agreed to let Germany off for $74,000,000 instead of $26,000,000, provided the United States would radically reduce or cancel the war debts due to that country. This the United States has thus far refused to do.

The Allies carried on the war against Germany for three years before the United States entered the conflict. Some of them had completely exhausted their credit in those three years and would have collapsed, the result of which might easily have been a German victory. Great Britain came to their rescue. But while Great Britain could have continued to finance all her own stupendous war expenditures, she could not do so and at the same time finance her allies. So Great Britain borrowed from the United States and, in turn, financed these other allied countries. They cannot repay Great Britain, nevertheless Great Britain is obligated to repay the United States, and, as the above figures indicate, has been doing so. As a result Great Britain was drained of gold; had to go off the gold standard; and now, because of failure of Germany to pay her, or pay other European nations which are so heavily indebted to Great Britain, it is no longer possible for Britain to continue paying out to the United States when others are not, because they cannot pay her.

Furthermore, in the huge borrowings by Britain and other countries from the United States, the latter country did not actually lend them gold. What the United States Government did was to advance them credit whereby to buy food supplies, munitions, raw materials and manufactures of all kinds in the United States. In other words, the money was practically all spent in the United States in enormously high war prices for farm products, in war-time wages to workers, in war-time profits to manufacturers and people generally. The people of the United States prospered while Europe was impoverished.

With the ending of the war, and the necessity of paying off these huge credits to the United States Government demanded payment in gold. The United States, we repeat, did not lend gold but sold supplies of all kinds of credit; when they refused to take supplies back in repayment but demanded gold. In order to prevent repayment of supplies they raised their tariff to prohibitive heights and shut out foreign goods. In so doing they killed off the export trade of the debtor nations, thus making it still harder, in fact impossible, for them to pay.

Great Britain has never defaulted in payment of its obligations to any one at any time. Reputation of obligations has never been countenanced by Great Britain, although it has been the victim of such practices by other countries, including several of the States of the United States. Britain has no desire to default now, and years ago offered to write off the debts owing to her if her own debts, created by borrowings to assist these other nations, were similarly written off. The world's financial and economic troubles today are not due to Great Britain, and her advice and example been followed after 1918 there would be no trouble.

If the United States still remains adamant, if it refuses to cancel or very substantially reduce the amounts owing to that Government, and continues to insist on payment in gold, then, in our humble opinion, the stand to be taken by the British Government should be this: Payment in gold being impossible, and in view of the fact that the debt was created through the supply of goods manufactured or produced in the United States, thus creating employment and wealth in the United States, Great Britain should now offer to repay the United States by exactly the same method—that is, by supplying the United States with goods produced or manufactured in Great Britain, or through services, such as shipping which Britain can supply, thus providing employment for Britain's unemployed, and producing wealth for Britain's over-taxed people and institutions.

Until the United States is prepared to accept such British credits in exchange for the credits extended to Britain, that is, to accept British goods and services in payment for the United States goods and services supplied, Great Britain, while not repudiating anything, would refrain from making any further payments in gold, and let the United States wait for any further settlement until that country is prepared to accept the same treatment from Britain that, in the hour of the world's extremity, the United States accorded to Britain. Could anything be fairer?

Canada At Geneva ConferenceDelegates Gave Full Support To Every Constructive Proposal

Canada gave whole-hearted support to every and every constructive proposal for the limitation and reduction of armaments which was laid before the Geneva disarmament conference, Sir George Perley, who headed the Canadian delegation, informed the House of Commons. Sir George read to the House a letter which he wrote to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, summarizing briefly the proceedings before its opening in February until the adjournment of the first session in July.

"The work of the first session can not be considered an unequalled success, and yet it is not fair to say that nothing was accomplished," Sir George informed the Prime Minister. The ordinary complexities of disarmament, he said, were complicated still further by several special events which added to the difficulties of the delegations in reaching agreement. The situation in the Far East, and the "exigencies of politics in certain European countries" were among factors. "As a result not as much was accomplished as was hoped for," Sir George wrote.

Sir George was accompanied to the conference by Hon. Maurice Dupré, solicitor-general, and Miss Winifred Kydd, president of the National Council of Women. To both of his colleagues he paid tribute on the floor of the House. "There were only two ladies who were full delegates to the disarmament conference," he wrote the Prime Minister, "and we are proud of the fact that one of them was a Canadian."

Subjects of great importance will be considered at the next session of the conference, Sir George informed the Prime Minister, in his letter. "There is reason to believe that if the peace of Germany and France can be reconciled, decisions for far-reaching importance may be taken at the forthcoming conference," Sir George wrote.

A Great Natural PortWest Should Use Every Legitimate Means To Advertise Churchill

The port of Churchill needs today publicity publicly well distributed in Great Britain, New York and eastern Canada. E. Cora Hind, commercial and agricultural editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, said in an address before the Whinlipp real estate board and the On-To-The-Bay Association.

Miss Hind urged her audience to work to induce western dealers of trade to send a strong delegation to meet the first boats coming in next session and make a real occasion of it. She also urged preparation and distribution in Britain and eastern Canada of statements as to the advantages of the bay route, avoiding any exaggeration.

"Every effort should be made," she said, "to interest western merchants to offer goods brought in by that route. All ships coming in next session should have some forward cargo."

"Churchill is a great natural port, the Hudson Strait is feasible and can easily be made so and for a longer season, but the work must be done from the west; the east will hinder only for a space and then to carry out an idea."

King George and Queen Mary Enjoy Meeting Helen Keller

Their kindly majesties of England, the King and Queen, never performed a more gracious act than, when they received informally Helen Keller, the marvelous deaf and dumb and blind American woman, who has surmounted her terrible handicaps in such a wonderful manner. Boost Woolen TradeBelieves New Trade Agreement With Britain Will Be Beneficial

Both Canadian and British woolen manufacturers should enjoy greater business in the Canadian market, in the long run, as a result of the changes in the textile tariffs affected by agreements at the Imperial Conference, declared H. Barrett, of Toronto, in his presidential address to the annual meeting of the Canadian Woolen and Knit Goods Manufacturers Association.

Addressing the members who had gathered from all parts of Canada, Mr. Barrett devoted the greater portion of his address to the Imperial Conference and its effects on the woolen industry.

"The improvement of Great Britain's position in the Canadian market," he said, "will be partly at the expense of employment in the Canadian mills and partly at the expense of mills in non-empire countries. But as the preferences on our primary products become effective the market for Canada for wool products should increase so that the total effect should be to increase business done in Canada by both Canadian and British mills."

The Newest Shooting ClubBuenos Aires Criminal Practice Shooting At Cardboard Policemen

A shooting club for criminals where they could practice firing at cardboard figures of policemen was discovered in the authorities at Buenos Aires with the arrest of one of the band. A letter from the woman proprietor of the club, found in the captured man's possession, revealed the location of the range.

On raiding the house, the police found a 90 ft. underground shooting range and three gunners assiduously practicing their marksmanship. The range was lined with soundproof boarding and fitted with the latest appliances. Blue cardboards figures of policemen, both moving and stationary formed the targets. The scores of the shooter were kept in a card index.

An Odyssey of death and danger was recited recently when Norman Cook, Los Angeles, returned from an expedition into the Australian desert to get motion pictures of head-hunting tribes.

Seventeen of his Japanese aides were killed by the savage aborigines, he declared. Tribesmen captured part of his film and destroyed them, he added.

"Those of us who were armed escaped," he said. "The head-hunters are deadly afraid of powder or bullets."

Trelle Makes Almost Clean Sweep In Wheat At Big Chicago Show

Chicago, Ill.—Led by Herman Trelle, Canada made a clean sweep of all but five places in the hard red spring wheat awards in the International Hay and Grain show here, capturing 80 of the 85 awards and taking the first 65 places before a state exhibit stood.

Seven Alberta exhibitors were in the first 10, of which Trelle, whose home is at Wembly, Alberta, was first, and Freelan Wilford, of Stavely, Alberta, second.

Joseph E. Smith, of Wolf Creek, Alberta, was forced to take fifth place in the two-rowed barley classes, bowing to two exhibitors from Victor, Montana, Peter Erickson, who took first, and Gustave Luedcke, second.

Trelle's exhibits in the six-rowed Treib type barley that were up within the first four in last year's show were sadly missed; the state agriculturists sweeping all but three of the 15 awards, the first, Dominion man to score being E. W. Peters, of Gwynne, Alberta, with a ribbon for 11th place. Thirteenth was Samuel Larcombe, Birch Manitoba, and E. Green, LaRue, Saskatchewan, 15th.

In barley, any other varieties, F. P. Trowell, Saltcoats, Saskatchewan, who has taken two other awards in two divisions, took this. A. M. Rieboldt and Gustave Luedcke, both of Victor, Montana, took first and second.

Canadian entrants in the show began their customary blue ribbon annexation as the show opened Saturday. In the agricultural division, the first grand championship awarded went to R. S. Lee, of Chatsworth, Ont., for the best field peas, small yellow variety.

The second championship awarded was taken by Mrs. Mary E. Maycock, of Milford, Ont., with an exhibit of navy bean seeds. J. H. Lampman, of Ridgeway, Ont., took the reserve championship with a sample in the field beans of any other variety.

Herman Trelle, of Wembly, Alberta, world's wheat king, placed second with his samples in the field peas exhibits, while his fellowtownsmen, Erich Anderson, was named reserve grand champion.

In the grain exhibits Alberta claims 23 samples, of which all but three weighed over 65 pounds per bushel.

Trelle, who last year captured the Armour wheat championship trophy, entered five exhibits, the limit allowed under the rules of the hay and grain show. They are in the flat, field peas, hard red spring wheat and medium and early barley divisions.

In the oats exhibits, 19 of 19 samples in the medium division, one sample weighs 51.8 pounds to the bushel, a record which has to date never been equalled at the show. It is exhibited by R. Hamm, who lives north of Grande Prairie, Alberta.

Only one sample of hard red winter wheat has been entered from Alberta, though Trelle has taken awards in past years on samples in this class. It was raised by S. B. Allop, of Wembly, 700 miles north of the Canadian line, and weighs 65.9 pounds to the bushel.

In the field peas and other samples, Canada enjoyed a clean sweep.

Redistribution Bill

Parliamentary Committee Of 20 Members To Have Charge Of Work

Ottawa, Ont.—A parliamentary committee of 20 members will draft the redistribution bill, Premier R. B. Bennett announced in the House of Commons. There will be 11 Conservatives, seven Liberals and two Progressives. The redistribution bill will set representation in the House for the next 10 years and define constituency boundaries.

The Prime Minister explained the method of computing the representation for each province as provided in the B.N.A. Act. The province of Quebec, he said, was given a fixed membership of 65, and representation in the other provinces was based on the relation which that number bore to the population of Quebec. There were certain exceptions to this rule, which were set forth in the act.

For Better Understanding

Makes Plea For Closer Union Between Britain and U.S.

London, Eng.—Speaking at a Pilgrim Society luncheon in honor of Robert Fraser, the new United States consul-general, Lord Halsham, Secretary for War, made a plea for closer union between Great Britain and the United States for the economic salvation of the world.

"Never has there been a time when it was more important that our two peoples should understand one another," he said. "We stood together in arms to protect civilization from violent destruction, I believe that today we, the two great creditor nations of the world, must stand together to protect the world from economic disaster. I believe that the hope of civilization lies in fuller understanding between Great Britain and the United States."

Church Union

Australian Making Study Of Church Union System In Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—"I don't think there is any chance of stopping union," declared Lieut.-Col. the Rev. A. T. Holden, D.D., president-general of the General Conference of the Australian Methodist Church, and chaplain-general of the Australian military forces, who was a visitor in Ottawa. Col. Holden is making a trip across Canada for the sole purpose of studying church union as it exists in this country, so that he can put forth proposals in his own country for the union of churches.

Rumor Is Denied

British Premier's Health Excellent States His Physician

London, Eng.—Reassuring statement by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's physician was before the nation following publication of rumors that his health had taken a bad turn.

"I am glad to be able to tell you the Prime Minister's health is excellent," his physician, Sir Thomas Horder declared at a public meeting in London.

Chinese Peasants Reported Massacred By Japanese Troops

Shanghai, China.—A Chinese foreign office communiqué published here charged that 2,700 Chinese peasants were massacred recently in northern Manchuria by Japanese troops.

The mass killing was done by machine guns, the communiqué said.

Inhabitants of the villages of Ping-Ting-San, Chien-Chin-pao and Lits-kou, 10 to 16 miles northeast of Fushun, were assembled in a ditch of Ping-Ting-San while Japanese soldiers searched the villages for Chinese volunteers, the announcement said. It was explained that the villagers were suspected of co-operating with and harboring the volunteers.

According to the Chinese foreign office, the Japanese promised a reward if the villagers were found to be innocent, and then placed more than 10 machine guns 70 yards from the assemblage, ordering all the captives to kneel with their backs to the guns.

Some of the villagers realized the fate in store for them, the communiqué continued, and commenced to run, whereupon the machine guns opened fire on the stampeding mass of screaming women, children and others not killed by bullets were bayoneted, the statement said.

The Japanese, the foreign office declared, plied up the corpses, covered them with oil-soaked fuel and burned them.

"Infants, children and others not killed by bullets were bayoneted," the statement said.

The Japanese, the foreign office declared, plied up the corpses, covered them with oil-soaked fuel and burned them.

Subsequently, according to the communiqué, the farms of the villagers were allotted to Japanese nationals.

Thanks East For Help

W. C. Buckle Voices Appreciation For Western People

Toronto, Ont.—Western Canada was colorfully represented at the Royal Winter Fair when one of the greatest parades of livestock seen at this year's Royal Winter Fair, gave more than 11,000 spectators a vivid idea of what the western provinces can produce in the way of cattle and horses.

Hon. W. C. Buckle, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, spoke on behalf of Western Canada.

With great emotion the westerner expressed the thanks of Saskatchewan peoples for the manner in which Eastern Canada citizens had come to the rescue during the trying times in his province, due to drought of the last three years when many farmers were forced to abandon their farms and seek new fields.

"May I be permitted on behalf of my own people in these provinces who had occasion last winter to be the recipients of the generosity and kindness of the people of Eastern Canada for carioad after carioad of goods sent from the East, to assure you that was sincerely appreciated and will not lightly be forgotten," Mr. Buckle added.

New Bacon Policy Will Benefit Canada

British Markets More Open Than Ever For Product

Toronto, Ont.—"Canada will benefit automatically in the new policy by reason of the 260,000,000 pounds of bacon per year," declared J. S. McLean, of Canada Packers, Limited, in commenting on Great Britain's policy with regard to bacon restrictions which are now in effect.

"Her market will now be open even over to receive this Canadian bacon, which will take care of about 50,000 hogs a week," he said.

Great Britain has started cutting down on her imports of bacon from foreign countries. She is doing this essentially as a preliminary to building up her production."

New Stamp Issue

Bears Profile Of King Engraved In Medallion Style

Ottawa, Ont.—A new stamp issue, in denominations of one, two, three, four and eight cents was placed on sale by the post office department on December 1.

The new issue bears the profile of the King, engraved in medallion style, and is similar in design to the 3-cent stamp issued to commemorate the Imperial Economic Conference.

At the same time a new 13-cent stamp will be issued replacing the current 12-cent stamp that bears the view of the Quebec capital. The design of the new stamp will be the same as that of the 12-cent issue, but its colour will be violet.

Italy Passes Tenth Milestone Under Fascism

Since that October day, ten years ago, when the black-shirted legion, led by an almost unknown agitator, Benito Mussolini, marched into the Eternal City and started Italy on its comeback to greatness, many changes have taken place in the land of the Caesars and Popes. The most remarkable of these changes, in the locker-on, has been the climb to power of Mussolini. His word is law in every corner of the country. He is hated by many, feared by many, adored by many—but obeyed by all. Fascists claim that Il Duce has built up the economic structure of Italy to a position it has not enjoyed for decades.

United States May Invite Conference On Wheat Quota Question

Many Questions On Beauharnois Project

Matter Is Again On Ottawa House Order Paper

Ottawa, Ont.—The Beauharnois power project again figures in questions placed on the order paper of the House of Commons, E. J. Garland, United Farmer member for Bow River, has a dozen queries on the order paper with a view to obtaining further information in respect to the financing of the undertaking.

Mr. Garland first asks for the tabling of copies of any arrangements which have been entered into by the government in respect to the Beauharnois project. He wishes to know the total amount of money advanced by the government to date in connection with the construction and completion of the enterprise.

"What security has the government been given for the money advanced?" he asks.

The member for Bow River asks if the government has obtained any legal opinion regarding the legal right of the Beauharnois Heat and Power Company to transmit electrical energy beyond the limits and boundaries of the province of Quebec.

"Did the minister of finance or the prime minister approve of loans estimated at $6,500,000, made by the Royal Bank of Canada, the Bank of Montreal, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce to this enterprise?" he asks. "Are such loans permissible under the Canadian Bank Act?"

Attack Duff Report

Labor Makes Attack On Ha Recommendations

Ottawa, Ont.—Thousands of railwaymen throughout Canada will be thrown into the ranks of the unemployed if the Duff commission's report is adopted, the House of Commons was told when Labor made its initial attack on its recommendations.

Humphrey Mitchell, Labor, Hamilton East, estimated 20,000 railwaymen would lose jobs. Hon. Peter Heenan, who returned to overalls and a locomotive cab when he left the portfolio of Labor in the King cabinet, placed the number at "many thousands and thousands."

Branch railway lines would be scrapped, noted the former minister. Services would be dropped and curtailed. The Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways would be drawn into closer co-operation. Competition would disappear.

Washington, D.C.—An invitation to Canada and other countries to join in a conference on wheat exports may be issued by the Roosevelt administration shortly after it takes office.

The object would be to arrange a system of wheat export quotas such as was proposed two years ago at the London conference under the chairmanship of High Commissioner G. H. Ferguson.

President-elect Roosevelt is reliably reported to be favourably considering re-opening the conversations held at that time. In his election speeches he indicated a strong leaning toward international conferences as a method of solving economic problems, proposing a world parity on tariffs and monetary stabilization.

Observers note that a quota agreement between wheat-exporting nations would fit in with the domestic farm policy Mr. Roosevelt is thought to favor. Though he at no time definitely made a choice among numerous plans for "farm relief," farm organizations count on him to support the "domestic silicon plan."

This scheme, by guaranteeing to wheat-growers a fixed price on the part of their crop used in the home market, would give them an incentive to limit acreage in accordance with expert advice from Washington.

U.S. economists who attended the London conference, headed by Dr. Nils Olsen, of the Department of Agriculture, reported on their return that little progress had been made and that there was not much hope of a quota arrangement. They also hinted that such an agreement between exporting countries would be regarded with hostility by importing countries and would provoke them to increase tariffs with a view to stimulating home production.

The advice of these economists, who hold that the United States must gradually retreat from the wheat export market, would probably be again against reopening the questions discussed at London.

There is no confirmation of Mr. Roosevelt's reported plans, but it is said that if any conference is held, he will invite Russia as well as Canada, the Argentine, Australia and other countries with wheat surpluses to send delegates.

Would Improve Bacon Hogs

Toronto, Ont.—Advocating a higher quality of bacon hog suitable to the demand of the Great Britain consumer, Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, addressed several hundred farmers and exhibitors at the Royal Winter Fair luncheon recently.

Would Establish A World Wheat Pool On Voluntary Basis

Calgary, Alberta.—Virtual establishment of a world wheat pool, on a voluntary basis by the four leading wheat exporting countries, was urged before the Alberta wheat pool annual meeting here by C. W. Peterson, publisher of the Farm and Ranch Review and leading farm expert of western Canada.

Mr. Peterson's address was given at request of delegates during discussion of general wheat production and exporting problems.

Mr. Peterson's proposals, mentioning specifically the wheat exporting countries of Canada, United States, Australia and Argentina, briefly were:

- To organize the four chief wheat exporting countries into a pool to control, within each such country, the domestic and export sale of wheat and flour.
- To induce importing countries to agree to a fixed uniform price of a specified grade of wheat at Liverpool.
- By creating a state monopoly of the wheat and flour business, or by any other feasible method, to facilitate the proper enforcement of such a price within all countries.

Elaborating his proposals after addressing the closed meeting of the pool delegates, Mr. Peterson reviewed history of agriculture for the past 300 years, leading up to present world conditions. He proposed the licensing of farmers in Canada, United States,

Australia and Argentina to guarantee against over-production with a form of international control.

"Thinking people," he said, "can easily comprehend the sequence of events leading up to present conditions." The first step, he said, was universal agricultural over-expansion arising from inflated war prices. The second was culmination in unprecedented agrarian price demoralization, bringing the temporary subjugation of farmers in all exporting and most importing countries to a slump standard of living. The final was present chaos.

Mr. Peterson's plan called for establishment of a "joint international wheat board" which would become responsible for marketing of all the wheat and flour produced in the four countries.

Each of the four countries would, by the joint international body, be allotted an acreage quota annually, based on current world requirements. Normally, he said, this would vary somewhat each year in sympathy with carryovers, increases in world population and planting intentions of other countries. Special quota allowances might have to be accorded Australia and Canada in view of their comparatively undeveloped soil to provide a new settlement. The proceeds of the acreage, based on the season's yield in each country, would be accepted for export sale. No more than the quota would be taken.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Coleman notes with pride that Herman Treille has again distinguished himself at the World's Grain Show in Chicago. He spent his early days in Coleman, and the Graham boys were fellow school pupils of Treille's. It is a singular fact that though receiving his early schooling in a coal mining town, he should have captured the world's wheat championship more times than any other competitor. He lives at Wembly, Peace River district. His enterprise and brave spirit in fighting against a heavy handicap of sickness, necessitating for a time his stay in Keith's sanatorium, is a splendid example of how determination can be made to rise above environment and all that tends to keep a man down. But a good man refuses to stay down.

The proposal of A. M. Morrison president of the Citizens League, that everyone join in contributing to a relief fund, met with general approval. To rail against conditions accomplishes nothing, but co-operative effort by all citizens can alleviate the distress of the less fortunate. Many of the extravagant proposals by unemployed councils it would be impossible to adopt, no country could meet the cost, but by a spirit of cooperation and a desire to meet some of the difficulties can be mitigated. Thanks is due to those who have responded, which made the self-imposed task much less arduous than usual for the gentlemen who gave their time in interviewing the people. They did a good job!

Sweep aside God and religion, train the young to be atheists, impress on them there is no Santa Claus. Kill the conscience of the people and make them automatons with state-regulated lives, setting the wage scales and rationing the daily food. This is the ideal held up as the modern Utopia for working people by the apostles of Communism. The type of people in Canada who preach this doctrine have not shown any aptitude for co-operating in solving problems affecting the workers. Observation confirms the fact that they do not wish to co-operate. They believe in dictatorship, provided it is of their own making. And to further exemplify the type of tyranny they would impose, one has to hear them rant and rave against all who dare to differ with their vague ideals.

The majority of Coleman miners have turned down the opportunity to regain possession of the fine hall which was paid for years ago by members of the union. Old prejudices on the part of very few are responsible. A finer community hall and union headquarters could not be obtained, and the use of it is lost because of bygones that should have been long forgotten. The U. M. W. of A. made as liberal an offer as possible, with the reservation that the hall should always be available for the use of the miners. If offers of other organizations are accepted, or of private interests, no blame can be attached to the executive of the district which at present holds the title.

The ratepayers of this town are willing to subscribe towards local relief, but they are not to be imposed on by those who refuse to work at the prevailing scale offered. Men have been so intimidated that they feared to go on relief work at 30c per hour. Too many sheep listen to the bull. Many are willing to make some sacrifice to help the less fortunate, but they will not countenance helping those who refuse to help themselves and deter others from working. The public will judge for themselves, and they will judge aright.

States the Christian Science Monitor of Boston: "Canada's government pledges itself to draft a contributory unemployment insurance scheme. This will be submitted to a Dominion-provincial conference, and introduced in parliament in February. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, promises warm support. Prime Minister Bennett makes the announcement earlier than intended because he continues attack on the government's treatment of the unemployed by Labor members. Mr. Bennett maintains that his government is not regretful in an orderly manner it is seeking the right way to do the right thing."

Canadians Learn Canada

Travel from the towns and villages of Canada to the major cities, and vice-versa from the cities to the towns and villages as well as inter-city travel has been given an unprecedented impetus by introducing the low rate passenger railway excursion feature into the company's activities during the current year. Since February last and up to mid-November for the East of Canada, the railway's passenger department gives a figure of 65,000 passengers who have availed themselves of these exceptional opportunities to familiarize themselves with the Dominion.

The beautiful countryside of Canada in all its seasonal aspects has been brought to the doors of the city dweller and the people of the cities have learned to set acquainted with the yellow-clad of other cities to a degree probably unparalleled in Canadian history by this innovation in railway operation. Instances have been annihilated by the extremely low rates from the Maritime Provinces to Montreal; from Montreal to the borders of western Ontario, to the capital of Canada, to the ancient city of Quebec, to Toronto, London and on to Windsor, Detroit and Chicago, and to scores of intermediate places, there is scarcely a point that has not been brought into close touch with all others.

Contend There Is Room For Them As Manicurists

Entering a field hitherto belonging exclusively to women, six Edmonton young men have finished training as manicurists. And they're deadly serious about it.

The head of a prominent school of beauty culture in the east gave them their training. Economic conditions forced them into this experiment, but they don't intend to compete with women manicurists. There's room in the field for both, they say.

Biography Of Louis Riel

Chas. Sauve Brings To Light Some Interesting Facts Concerning Riel Leader

Louis Riel's grandfather's name was Rielson and Riel himself came from Limerick, Ireland. In Quebec, he is stated among the interesting records in a biography of "Riel, the Martyr," written by Charles Sauve, who died in Winnipeg recently.

Mr. Sauve was forty years in finding the book, completing it a few days before his death.

He began to make notes at the time of Riel's death. Sauve was one of those chosen to go west to Regina when Riel was executed and guard the box-car that brought the casket to Winnipeg during the black days of November, 1885.

Mrs. S. Smith, daughter of Sauve, in telling of the manuscript, said it disclosed Riel's body was not in the coffin buried in St. Boniface, but was buried secretly elsewhere.

In the boisterous other famous characters of the west of those days are described, including Jean Baptiste Lagimodiere, who went on snow-shoes from Red River to Montreal.

One of M. Sauve's exploits as a young man was to duplicate this feat of his ancestor, walking to Montreal and back, carrying nothing but his gun. He was gone a year.

Explanations and Comments

Jesus Was No Respecter Of Persons. John 4:5-10. —We have in this incident a picture of Jesus meeting with a representative of another race. This was our text for the Fourth Lesson of the First Quarter, and Explanations and Comments there may be read.

"The world menace of interracial friction and antagonism constitutes the supreme concrete challenge to the Christian belief that all men are the children of God."

The Lesson Peter Learned About Other Nations. Acts 10:9-35.—While praying on a house top in Joppa, Peter had a vision of a receptacle resembling a great sheet let down from heaven by its four corners, and in it all manner of four-footed beasts and creeping things and birds, and a voice bidding him kill and eat. Horrified at the thought, Peter exclaimed, "Not so, Lord, for I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean." The Levitical law prescribed what animals could be eaten and what could not be eaten, and all else was held to be unclean.

"What God hath cleansed, make not thou common," were the words the voice uttered to the astonished Peter. What God had made and given Peter to eat in His sight, Peter had been taught to consider unclean. Peter had been told of the vision. It was important for Peter and the leaders to recognize the fact that the distinction of meats held by the Jews in the past must now be given up, in order that Jews and Gentiles might eat together, associating on terms of equality.

Peter was pondering the meaning of the vision when he was arrested for Corneille, a Roman centurion at Caesarea, a devout man who was generous to the poor. They were men of another race, whom before this Peter had despised. Peter had been with his less noble mind Peter had been told of the vision. Cornelius told Peter of the vision he had had, in which he was directed to see for the latrine and wash his hands as witness to the fact that he was doing a venture thing. Cornelius told Peter of the vision he had had, in which he was directed to see for the latrine and wash his hands as witness to the fact that he was doing a venture thing.

The next day he accompanied them on their return to Cornelius. He took the precious scroll with him, and brought it as witness to the fact that he was doing a venture thing. Cornelius told Peter of the vision he had had, in which he was directed to see for the latrine and wash his hands as witness to the fact that he was doing a venture thing. These travelling clinics go into all parts of the province, into good communities, and poor, and very poor. They follow clues of disease, examine those who have been in contact with open tuberculous, or are suspected, and keep examining them. No charge is made for any such examination. There is now a van to carry all equipment and staff, and a portable generator, so that a current for X-ray films can be provided anywhere.

More than fifteen thousand examinations have been made by these Manitoba Travelling Clinics since they began, supported by seal sales. Besides known tuberculous people who have been seen, the new discoveries of tuberculous totalled more than 200 in 1932, and altogether, more than one thousand.

When you bought seals last year this was the big work you helped with. When you buy NOW help us to do even more in 1933.

Should you buy seals? This year many should not or cannot. Do not be pressed to buy unless you should. We would like to think that none had bought who should not. It is quite easy to return the seals to the sanatorium at Ninette, Manitoba. If you have bought in other years and cannot this year please take a few seals without cost before returning.

But do your bit by buying if you can and what you can. The worse the year the more the need.

Different Dog Taxes

In England they pay 7s. 6d. for a license for any sort of dog, but in Germany dogs are taxed according to their weight. A dachshund costs £2 a year. In France dogs are taxed according to their value. You can keep a mongrel for as little as a shilling, but a thoroughbred may cost thirty shillings.

Steamers Missed Rock Through Good Luck
Vancouver Coast

Lazy Luck has been standing on the bridge of every steamer that has navigated Reilly's Cove, Clayquot Sound, West Coast of Vancouver Island, because in the dead centre of the channel there is a pinnacle of rock that has led many a fair-weather sailor over to low water.

This pinnacle was located by the Dominion hydrographic steamer "Lillooet" in the course of her charting work and a lot of mariners are shaking hands with themselves at getting over that dangerous spot without trouble.

How ships missed piling up on this rock is explained by the hydrographers that none happened to be in the neighbourhood at low water. "Just a matter of luck," said one of the hydrographers.

A Pocket Sheep-Shearer

Small machine can Run from Lighting Battery Of Car

A small machine for shearing sheep weighing only five pounds, has been invented for use with the lighting battery of a motor car.

New Design For Cars

Noted Engineer Seeks Auto Built On
Principles Of Airplane

William B. Stout, noted aeronautical engineer told an assembly of the Society of Automotive Engineers at Detroit, recently, that many of their ideas in automotive design were wrong and that a change in fundamentals was necessary to get started in the right direction. If recent reports are correct, he is carrying out his own ideas.

It is said that Stout has obtained backing for the research preliminary to incorporating his theories in a production vehicle. He is busy in his laboratory in Detroit, and while mass manufacturers are interested in his views they consider them too radical for application now.

Stout, of course, is an aviation man, and many of his principles are based on knowledge gained in the building of airplanes. What he told the S. A. E. at its meeting is in substance what he is experimenting with now. He takes issue with the conventional practice of making cars heavy to obtain safety and riding ease. He believes there is no reason why a car should weigh more than 1,800 pounds and that they probably will weigh much less than that in the future. He is applying the aeronautical principles of construction and plans a body with the "turtle-back" contour to bring down wind resistance.

He has little use for "gadgets" to make a car ride easier, and his work is carrying him into much deeper channels. He holds that a light car with little unsprung weight and properly designed tires to absorb shocks rather than transmit them can be made just as comfortable as the most costly limousine. He cites the airplane with a pressure of two to four pounds an air example.

He plans to mount the motor in the rear where the heat, noise and fumes escape the passengers. He is using a water-cooled engine in his experiments but foresees the time when the air-cooled engine will be adopted generally to automotive use.

His experiments will require a year. Stout said, and he expects the car to reach the production stage in about eighteen months.

Prehistoric Skeleton

Interesting Find in Minnesota Of Remains 20,000 Years Old

A startling discovery that a skeleton found in Minnesota less than two years ago is probably that of a prehistoric 17-year-old American girl, slain violently 20,000 years ago, was reported to the National Academy of Science.

The details seem to confirm one of the great goals of scientific search for proof that man lived in North America when the last glaciers were melting and to furnish a dramatic account of the first American tragedy, possibly a crime of passion a seeming "murder" that waited 20,000 years to "burst."

The skeleton was presented in pictures by Professor Albert E. Jenks, of the University of Minnesota. The skeleton was found in 1931 in Ottertail County, Minnesota. It lay at the bottom of what Professor Frank Leverett, University of Michigan geological authority, told the academy was a glacial lake 20,000 years ago, now laid up and in the intervening years covered with about 11 feet of soil. Road-builders turned up the skeleton about at the bottom of this 11 feet.

Study of the formation of joints, Prof. Jenks said, indicated the bones were those of a girl of about 17, her head features were Mongolian, with a specially apish shape of the nosebones. Unusually fine preservation by the tightly packed clay that held her so long, made the skull markings easy to interpret.

On the back of the skull, Prof. Jenks showed pictures of two grooves which he said were unlikely to have been made by a tool and probably of ritual or sex symbolism. "The lower border of the right shoulder blade," said Prof. Jenks, "was cut through by a hole. It seemed to have been made by an arrow or a spear which struck her in front, passing through the lung and quite possibly piercing the heart."

"The skeleton lay about a half or three quarters of a mile out from the shore of the lake. There was nothing to indicate how this person came to be out in the water. She may have been on a raft, or in a canoe, and may have fallen into the water when struck. It had been suggested also that death may have overtaken this person on the ice during winter."

After the meeting one of the academicians suggested further that some one might make a guess this was the prototype of Eliza crossing the ice, not getting away with it.

National Radio Commission

Western Canada To Hear Eastern Broadcasts Soon

The radio commission, under Hector Charlesworth, is busily engaged preparing a programme of broadcasts, and it was learned at commission headquarters that the interests of radio listeners in the four western provinces will receive particular consideration.

The commission will issue a statement outlining its programme before the close of the month.

It is understood the commission has in mind the fact that many excellent programmes are going to be broadcast in central Canada this winter. The companies sponsoring these programmes do not intend to carry them west of Windsor and there is good opportunity for the commission to co-operate in giving these broadcasts wider distribution, particularly in the west. In this way a dozen or more Canadian artists of international repute may be heard in the west as well as in central Canada.

In regard to the taking over of prairie stations, the commission has not yet taken this problem in hand, and will not do so until the coming year.

Out of a total of 177,765 metric tons, 35 per cent. was of Canadian origin."

Will Visit Native Land

Buy Five Yearly Round Trip Tickets
With Cunard Line To Italy

Guiseppe Canzona, of Peoria, Ill., has great faith in the grace of God and the life of the Cunard Line. He is sure he will live for at least ten years and he wants to see his native land, Italy, at least once every one of these years. With the latter purpose in mind he entered the local Cunard office and offered to buy ten round-trip tickets, good for the ensuing ten years. The booking clerk was astounded at such a request and frankly said so. The prospective traveller was insistent. He had come over on a Cunard liner twenty years ago and liked the ship. It would be his line for life now that he had reached a point in the possession of the world's gilds where he could spend his winters in the land of his birth.

The clerk consulted the manager on the proposition that bore the mask of insanity. The manager of the Cunard office and a conference was entered into in which it was decided to book the general rate five times at the prevailing rate and tell him that even if the rates skyrocketed for the succeeding five years, he could have the tickets at today's rates.

Guiseppe agreed. He bought tickets for five round trips, one of them good for the "Aquitania" sailing November 4th, and the others "open" tickets, good any time they are presented during the next five years.

Mr. Canzona's little fortune was gathered with the help of a street piano, with which he visited many mid-western cities as well as all the little towns and hamlets in between.

He has made a speciality of keeping his tunes up to date, thus always being welcome in any community. He learned long ago that people always want something new and he has made it a study to give it to them. At night he listens to the radio and when he learns of a tune or song that is in public demand he straightway has it placed in the cylinder of his piano on wheels."

Mr. Canzona came over to this country from Turin, Italy, and although he has become an American citizen, and is generally accredited as being a staunch one, nevertheless he pines at times for the scenes of his youth and the many charms that turn the eyes of the world toward Italy. To keep his feelings in tune with the music of his native land, he always has one classic and one up-to-date Italian selection in his falling piano.

As Mr. Canzona came over in the third class and found it entirely comfortable and to his liking, he sees no reason for being extravagant and so is "going back that way. The round-trip will cost him $155.50 plus taxes.

Mr. Canzona paid his five-trip bill in full, a total of $802.50.

Story Worth Repeating

Incident Occurred Some Years Ago During Victory Bond Campaign

Floating of the recent Dominion of Canada bond issue brought to mind an incident which occurred some 15 years ago. It was during a Victory Bond campaign and the speaker had just concluded an impassioned address on the virtues of subscribing to the government loan. After going into details of the issue, he mopped his brow, took a copious draught of water and asked the audience if there were any points on which they were not quite clear. A farmer at the back of the hall rose to his feet. "I'd like to thank the speaker for having explained everything so fully," he said, "but there's one thing I'd like to know."

"Yes?" said the speaker helpfully. "It's just this," replied the farmer. "When do we have to pay the interest on this here loan?"—Financial Post.

Canada's Fur Industry

Industry Rapidly Expanding Through-out the Dominion

Despite the fact that the number of fur farms in Canada increased over one thousand to a total of 6,524 for 1930, the total value of investment in land and buildings, $5,583,846, was $5,000 less than the preceding year, and the value of fur-bearing animals at $16,197,747 was $5,000,000 less than the value in the preceding year. The fur industry is rapidly expanding throughout the Dominion and much valuable assistance to it is given through experimental and research work carried on under the direction of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Developed By Chinese

Grapefruit Was Hardly Edible Three Thousand Years Ago

Grapefruit which is now such a popular article of diet, was developed by the Chinese some 3,000 years ago from one of the wild citrus trees with which their country abounds, and whose natural fruits are small and hardly edible.

In the eighteenth century it was taken by an Englishman, Captain Shaddock, to the West Indies and grown there with success. Thence it spread to the United States, whose fruit-growers have given it much attention and have improved it considerably.

Aspen poplar is one of the most widely distributed trees in Canada, being found in every province of the Dominion. Its northern limit extends almost to the Arctic ocean, at the Mackenzie delta. In the prairie provinces it is an important source of fuel.—Forest Service, Department of the Interior.

Justice Tweedie's Remarks Right to The Point

(Drumheller Review)

When Mr. Justice Tweedie was considering applications for naturalization papers, he refused some, his reason being that if these applicants desired the benefits of Canadian citizenship, they should bring their families to Canada and assume the responsibilities of Canadian citizenship. Too much good Canadian money is being sent back to European countries, which should remain in Canada. One applicant admitted he had sent back some $3200.00 to his wife in his home land to buy a farm, where she and the family lived. Justice Tweedie suggested to this applicant that this money should be returned to Canada.

The point raised is one well known to everyone in the cosmopolitan Red Deer coal valley. The post-offices do a rushing business with the unnaturalized miners, who send their savings back home, spending here only what is needed for their existence. The standard of living is low, and while the English speaking miner has his family here, and spends all his earnings here, he oftentimes finds his job taken by those who are unnaturalized citizens.

During these hard times there has been a rush to become naturalized, as many big institutions insist that their employees qualify as to Canadian citizenship, either by British birth or naturalization. The desire therefore to become a Canadian citizen is oftentimes for the purpose of holding a job. It applies to people in all walks of life. Big pressure, and quite properly so, comes from native born Canadians, or British subjects on the unemployed list. While the capitalist may argue that he can run his own business, and the radical may argue that nationalism does not count, neither can alter the fact that citizens of our country should have first call on the situations or jobs available. They carry out this principle in other countries, and Canada should be no exception. Charity begins at home, and looking after the unemployed begins with Canadian citizens or with our own home people.

It has been maintained that relief work has been given to many unnaturalized citizens, who when working send their money back home to the European countries, from which they came to Canada. It is alright to say that the Government and the railways brought them here, but, if Canada has to keep them, she should have the right to insist on their earnings being spent in Canada. Otherwise, it would be cheaper to send them back home, and give the jobs to Canadian citizens. Another point is that those who sent their earnings back to European countries, occupy jobs, while many returned veterans are on the unemployed list.

Of course, there are others from other countries, than the European countries, whose hearts and bank accounts are kept back "Home," as they call it, who could take heed to Mr. Justice Tweedie's remarks, and to the contents of this editorial. If a country is worth living in, and, making money or a livelihood in, it is worth becoming a citizen.

Mr. Justice Tweedie is to be congratulated upon speaking his mind, especially when the court room was filled with men from other countries. Of course, there are thousands of naturalized Canadians from all countries, who are desirable, law abiding, progressive Canadians, but there is still quite a percentage of the people living in Canada, who do not realize the importance of Canadian citizenship, and, it rests with the authorities to be continually pointing out their duty in this respect.

"Pep up" business by judicious advertising. It announces to the public that you are up and doing, right on your toes to get business.
